 - c. Targets are not known except that they lie within Poland.
4. Personnel:
 - a. CANUCK. Sub-agent of BELVEDERE 6.
 - b. RIR-265.
5. "Cover" in CANUCK's case is that he works for MIS. He knows his chief, BELVEDERE 6 is working for "Mr. GEORGE" (BEACHCOMBER), who is an AIS representative. Case officer and organization do not appear in the picture.
6. Contact and Communications: Sees BELVEDERE 6 at the latter's apartment on Kepplerstr. about twice a week. BEACHCOMBER sometimes meets CANUCK there.
7. Could threaten to blackmail him with MIS for whom he works and who do not know that he is in touch with any other American intelligence agency. Control is primarily ideological inasmuch as he is anti-Communist and anti-Soviet. There is also a financial control.

10. Started to work for BEACHCOMBER (i.e. BELVEDERE 6) in Spring 1949. Termination of project planned for 15 April 1950. It had actually been planned to drop this man sooner, but BEACHCOMBER requested that he be kept on until 15 April.
11. Estimated Costs:

Nine cartons cigarettes per quarter for use while interrogating people on our behalf.

12. CANUCK is an old contact of the Munich Operations Base and first came to light in connection with BEACHCOMBER in connection with the unfortunate MARTINYAK affair. BEACHCOMBER then classified him as a casual informant of BELVEDERE 6's. It later developed that he figured regularly in BELVEDERE 6's operations. A check of old receipts reveals the following expenditures which were made to or in connection with CANUCK:
 1. 10 July 1949: 100 DM for preliminary interrogation of MARTINYAK.
 2. 1 Aug " : BEACHCOMBER, in his monthly accounting dated 1 Aug 1949, lists expenditure of MPC 22.00 for preliminary interrogation of MARTINYAK. This is possibly the same sum as that listed for 10 July.
 3. 1 Aug " : In the same accounting of 1 August, BEACHCOMBER lists an item of MPC 4.00 for meeting with CANUCK.
 4. 31 Aug " : 200 DM for delivery of reconnaissance material.
 5. 1 Sept " : In his accounting of 1 Sept, BEACHCOMBER lists an item of MPC 22.00 to CANUCK for expenses in connection with MARTINYAK and the attempt to intercept the "Swoboda" station's signals.
 6. 1 Sept " : The same accounting lists an item of MPC 2.50 for a meeting with MARTINYAK and CANUCK on 12 August; MPC 5.00 for a meeting
